

FRANK L. BOWSER SCHOOL NEWSLETTER MARCH 2025

Reminders

It is important for our school data that we have an accurate picture of the types of absences students accumulate. Students who are going away on trips or out for tournaments during regular school days must be coded as such in Safe Arrival.

Also, teachers are not responsible for sending work during vacations, leave from school or extended periods of time missed. The best thing for children is to live in the moment and document events through journaling and exposure to reading or being read to.

We thank you for cooperating with these guidelines.

Learn Why Series on Student Attendance Part 3

Social Emotional Growth:

Student attendance is crucial for several reasons, as it directly impacts a child's social and emotional growth and development. Here is how;

- Relationship Building: attending school allows students to interact with peers and teachers, fostering friendship and mentorships.
- Teamwork and Communication: Regular attendance helps students develop important social skills by working with others in group activities and discussions.
- Emotional Support: Schools provide a structured environment where students can access resources like counseling and guidance to support their emotional well-being.

Reminders

As slushy season is upon us, a reminder to send student wearing proper outdoor footwear and extra socks for those wet feet.

For younger students it is a good idea to have spare clothing in their backpacks for those wet days on the playground.

Staffing Updates

Cheryl Keiver is the new Admin Assistant at FLB. She has been working for a few weeks now, but we wanted to make her arrival known to our FLB families,
